Presidents Message

2001 is finally here, HAL has not taken over, the bowl games are finished, Frosty Wheels is over and the Titans have been eliminated from the playoffs. What do we do now? Oh well, I guess we could pull the old car cover off of the Stang and start getting it ready for Pensacola.

Before you know it, the show season will be upon us. Pensacola gets the ball rolling in late March followed by the Kansas City show in early May. The Indiana Spring Fling will precede our National Show by a week or so. Things will begin hopping before you know it.

Speaking of our National Show, we have very little time and a whole lot to do. Any of you that can help with the Show, please do not be bashful. We need the help. Everything is progressing fine, however, there is plenty of work to spread around. See Rick or myself at the meeting to discuss how you can get involved.

The Open Track event is going to happen and we need help here, too. We already have our first registrants for the Track event and have heard from many more that they will be here. I really feel that this will be a great time and that our club is plowing new ground in this area. The Track event can really give us the opportunity to help some very deserving charities and give back to our community. If you are going to participate in the Open Track event, I would urge you to register now to reserve your spot. Space will be limited.

Jim

During the club meeting on January 18, the Charity Committee, consisting of Margy Spivey, Lou Sullivan, and Rick Bosshart, will be taking suggestions for which charities the club will be supporting. The committee plans to limit the number of supported charities to three or four. If you would like to propose a charity, please bring the charity's name, address, and telephone number to the club meeting. If you cannot attend this month's meeting, please contact any Charity Committee member with your suggestion.

Illegal Operation

Submitted by Rick Bosshart

In the Friday, December 29, 2000, issue of The Review Appeal, I read an interesting article from a syndicated columnist, Red Green. I hope you find it as humorous as I did. The excerpt is as follows:

Protesting too much

I was doing something on my computer the other day when suddenly a notice pops up in the middle of the screen saying "You have performed an illegal operation! This program will be shut down!" What is that? An illegal operation? I pressed a button on my computer. Is that against the law now?

This seems way over the top to me. I think it's a device created by the people who make these computers to cover their own mistakes. Obviously there's a glitch in the software, which triggers a problem and instead of them creating a sign that says "We screwed up by selling you this computer before we got the bugs out of it," they went with "You have performed an illegal operation!"

It's not a bad move actually. Maybe you should try that in your life. When your wife criticizes you, you just say, "You have performed an illegal operation! This conversation will be shut down!" And then go out. But first, make sure you have a house key in your pocket.

THE LAST POLITICAL JOKE WE WILL HAVE

Subject: Rat Story (Guess who submitted the joke)

A tourist walks into a curio shop in San Francisco. Looking around at the Eronica, he notices a very life-like, life-sized bronze statue of a rat. It has no price tag, but is so striking he decides he must have it. He took it to the owner:

"How much for the bronze rat?"

"Twelve dollars for the rat, one hundred dollars for the story," said the owner.

The tourist gave the man twelve dollars.

"I'll just take the rat, you can keep the story."

As he walked down the street carrying his bronze rat, he noticed that a few real rats had crawled out of the alleys and sewers and began following him down the street. This was disconcerting, he began walking faster. But within a couple blocks, the herd of rats behind him had grown to hundreds, and they began squealing. He began to trot toward the Bay, looking around to see that the rats now numbered in the MILLIONS, and were squealing and coming toward him faster and faster.

Concerned, even scared, he ran to the edge of the Bay, and threw the bronze rat as far out into the Bay as he could. Amazingly, the millions of rats all jumped into the Bay after it, and were all drowned. The man walked back to the curio shop.

"Ah ha," said the owner, "You have come back for the story?"

"No," said the man, "I came back to see if you have a bronze Democrat."

Editor's Note: Punch line could read: "No," said the man, "I came back to see if you have a bronze Republican."
