HOT LAPS

Message from the President

September has arrived, and none to soon...pretty soon the temperatures will be dropping and so will the leaves. The annual Fall Car show is just a week or so away, and this year we're mixing it up a bit with an Open Track event as well. Wax up the cars...put some air in the tires, come out and run 'em or show it off, either way its going to be a blast out at the Speedway. Please step up and help out where needed.

We still have a month or two of car show weather left, get on out there win some awards...have some fun...drive those cars. If you're going to the Friday night drags...burn some rubber, and of course WIN! See everyone at the Track.

Happy Mustangin' everyone

Roach's Review by Terri Roach

This summer I have been looking for some good, clean, fairly inexpensive entertainment. Since I now have two cars to support, I have no money. Some on ya'll know this syndrome. So I have been visiting the local cruise-ins. Here is my review

Friday nights

Rose's - Murfreesboro (Mercury Blvd) 6pm-9pm. While this one is not as big as it was at the mall, it is still a good time. The area is easy to get to, it has food and drinks, a DJ, 50-50 tickets, door prizes, and hula hoop contests for the kids. There are many nice cars, around 75 or so. And there is Kevin Pate, he'll come over and visit ya. Haha. It only cost $1 to help pay for the door prizes. That's cheap enough.

Steak and Shake - Home Depot parking lot, Hendersonville, (Indian Lake Dr), 6pm-7pm. Now this one is a cruise in!! You had better get there early, cause they run out of parking by 7pm. This one is HUGE! There were 10 or more rows of cars, about 100 cars. They have a TON of the classics like Mercury sedans, Bel Aire, Fairlane, Studabaker, Malibu, 442, Camaro, Mustang, Sunbeam, Corvette, Corvair, Firebird, Trucks, and I swear I saw a Deussen or similar type touring sedan. This one is totally free. They have a DJ, limbo game for kids, 50 50 tickets, and door prizes. And I thoroughly suggest that you eat at Shane's Rib Shack across the parking lot. It was FABULOUS!! This one is running through September. I highly suggest you go. You might run into Jerry and Lou and Ray and Karen like I did.

Saturday night

Mt Juliet Sonic drive (Mt Juliet Rd), 4pm -till. I highly suggest you get there early for this one. I got there about 7pm (waiting on Pate) and most the cars were gone. The ones left were awesome though. Tons of 68-69 Camaros, mustangs, corvettes, 51 Ford truck, Fairlanes, and a Thunderbird. I didn't see a DJ or door prizes. I probably missed all that. But Don and Debbie came to see me. We hung out and went over Charleston pictures. We had a pretty good time.

Snow White Restaurant Lebanon (1714 W Main St). Now this one is smaller but just as good. Once again, get there early. Probably around 4-5pm. The restaurant closes at 8pm and everyone leaves shortly after that. The restaurant serves BBQ and it is slow smoked for 12-14 hours everyday! Man is it good! This one has door prizes, free T-shirts with the cruise in logo on it, live singing, and once again Don and Debbie. There are about 15 or so cars. But the cars are nice. A Charger, 2 road runners, 68 Camaro, 50s or 60s ambulance with the gurney and oxygen tank still intact and a late 50s sedan (Ford?). This is one if you want GREAT food with a smaller crowd. I highly suggest this one too.

So that is where I have been this summer. We still have a few weeks left. Come on out, look at some cars, and eat some

Derby City Car Show by Debbie Jackson

This past weekend I was pushed out of the house to go have some girl time. My husband called up Terri Roach and asked if I could tag along with her and Amy to the Derby City Car Show. I was a little hesitant in going due to me thinking my car was not show worthy. But Terri called me and talked me into going. This is the first car show I have been to this year (if at all). We went up on Friday afternoon. The caravan consisted of Terri driving her Cobra, Amy driving the Fox Body Convertible GT, Lance in his Fastback, and me in my GT supercharger. We met at Rivergate and headed to Carrollton KY to Butler State Park for a three day car show!

I was quit impressed with the park. It was nothing like the parks we have in Tn. This park had a hotel with a restaurant and pool. The restaurant served a cooked breakfast and on Sundays an elaborate Sunday Buffet. There was also a convention center, put-put golf, a small train and track, paddle boats (they were put up after Labor Day though), a lake you can fish in, and walking trails. After checking in we made a Wal-Mart shop for costumes and other items. Then we ate at a local restaurant that Terri said was great- unfortunately they didn't have any AC and it was hotter than Hades in there. Maybe next year! Then we proceeded to go to the local car wash and some guys tried to pick up Terri. They said they would be at the show. Terri did you ever see them at the show? Lance attempted to blow up his car. Something about water and the carburetor. All I know is that it was a loud boom and I was inside my car and hit the floor thinking shots were fired.

Once we were finished we went back to our room to have a little R & R (or was that S & C-Southern Comfort)? Our hotel room looked out over the woods so we sat out on the back porch and talked. Lance came down for a little bit. We also had some other company that were mask and came out at night. They were hungry and we didn't want them attacking so we gave them our Oreos and they were pleased and let us live another night. There were three total, and they were the cutest little rascals you've ever seen but we didn't want them to know that. I'll leave that up for you to ask at the meeting.

Saturday we woke up early and ate breakfast, took the cars to registration and shined our cars for a good 3 hours. My arms and shoulders are still feeling the effect. The cars were judged but we wouldn't know the verdict until Sunday morning. The waiting is the hardest part. Saturday evening we had to wear (or was told we had to wear) a costume to the buffet dinner that the club hosted. It was great. They had a live band and it was decorated like Hollywood which was the theme. The dinner was great. They had trivia games at the table to pass the time. All in all I had a great time. I got to sit between Princess Leia and Popeye. Scarlet O'Hara was at our table as well as Thurston Howell III and Mrs. Lovey Howell. All in all I would suggest attendance to this gala event.

Sunday we woke up, packed our bags, loaded our cars, ate breakfast and went to the award ceremony. We all won 2nd place prizes for our stangs. I had a great weekend and I got to know MCMC members a little bit better. Things I learned: Who would have thought that a doctor could have a sense of humor, I've been watching too much House! Terri and Amy was very gracious in allowing me to barge in on their weekend. Thank you Terri and Amy, I'm very grateful. I'll definitely be doing this trip next year and bringing my better half. So mark your calendars so we can get a big group together and win that club participation from the other club that wins it every year!
