HOT LAPS

Message from the President

March is in the bag, and April is here...this is when we all start to kick it into gear whether we are involved in shows or racing.

The end of March saw the second edition of MARCH MADNESS put on by the Wild Horse Mustang Club up in Clarksville. I missed out this year. I hope it was as fun this time around as it was last year. If anyone wants to admit to going we'd like to hear about it at the meeting.

As we head into April the calendar will start to fill up fast. A couple of notable events to schedule are the Cars 4 Kids at the Baptist Children's Home in Brentwood and the all the cruise ins that start up on Friday and Saturday evenings. The spring show and shine at Two Rivers Ford be some time in May, exactly when is still up in the air...we'll get the word out when a firm date is set.

I would like to hear from you racers out there...what's been happening at Beech Bend?

The Open Track is coming along nicely...if you're doing some cruise ins grab some flyers and pass them out. Lets all get out and show off our cars...meet new folks and have fun, and don't forget to take pictures to share or do an article for the newsletter.

Happy Mustangin' everyone!

Dave Grathwohl

THE ADVENTURES OF THE THREE MUSKETEERS

By Lance McClure

Well the car show season has begun with a bang, and first out of the shut was the Gulf Shore Mustang Nationals in Pensacola, FL. I am here to tell you that it was an amazing show and adventure for everyone that went. It all started on Thursday morning when Terry Roach, Deb Jackson, Myself (Lance McClure), aka the Three Musketeers, and Deb's two children, Kristy and Monna, Chris (Christy's boyfriend) and their baby all meet at 9 am at Cool Springs. We soon left there and headed out for some fun in the sun. The trip down, 430 miles, and was uneventful. Thanks to Lance's car getting 15 mpg we made several stops every 150 - 200 miles. Well you can be assured that getting sleepy on that drive was hard to do. Gas prices ranged from $3.20 to $3.58 per gallon for premium. We made it down there around 6 pm and checked into our hotel. We didn't get to stay at the host hotels since they were full months ago, but Terry found a hotel that they used a few years ago at the car show. That night we had fine dining at a Mexican non-alcoholic restaurant; at least the food was good. The next day, Friday, we find ourselves leaving early to get to the show. Terry and Lance decided that he needed breakfast so they walked over to a Waffle House. After leaving Mr. No Memory Man found that he had left his wife's digital camera at the restaurant. I flipped around and went back only to find that no one, yes no one had seen the camera. With grumbles of I'm a walking dead man I got back into the car and gee look here it is, it had fallen out of my pocket in-between the seat. Well with a renewed outlook at life we then finally left for the show. After registering, Ms. Terry finds her parking spot right up front of the registration area, must be nice to be "special". The rest of us have to hoof it out to the parking lot for our spot. We got there just in time for the lining up of the "Herd trek" to the Naval Aircraft Museum several miles away. The place is amazing. A huge building with hundreds of every conceivable aircraft is in this museum. The planes are parked on the floor, some with wings extended, some folded, and others hanging from the ceiling and most amazing some attached to the walls. We opted for the do-it-yourself tour of the museum but as luck would have it we had with us a know-it-all with us. Yep, Dr. McClure entertained everyone with all kinds of information about the planes, jets and even the operation of how a turbine jet engine works. He was so full of "information" that he kept everyone that would listen well educated about planes and helicopters. There were lots of eye rolling and shaking of heads and a few over heard comments of how does he know all this by watching the military channel or just no life. But it was still fun. He even told a story about last time he was in Pensacola and drove a shark on the back of a camero thru the town and all the way the Fort Rucker AL., but that is another story for later. After leaving it was car washing time and we don't think that people wash cars in Pensacola. After a 90 minute trek of driving up and down the main roads not finding anything that resembled a car-wash, we finally stopped and asked and was giving directions to one that only had half of the controls working. That night at the hotel we meet a concourse judge and had dinner with him where we finally meet up with Ken and Nish. The next morning was show time and the three of us left at 8 am for the drive to the fair grounds. Well you can imagine the final cleaning and detailing for the next 4 hours. The show itself was great over 500 cars of all makes and the largest for sale pony corral I have ever seen. Probably 50 cars for sale from all types of mustangs to '53 Ford truck, nicely restored, to a yellow Pantera that only had 28000 miles, one word, NICE. Vendors were everywhere selling everything. At the show we meet up with the rest of the MCMC club members. Oh and for all of you who decided that it was too far to drive, while you enjoyed mid to high 30's lots of rain, we suffered with high 70's, intermittent clouds and a nice light ocean breeze. It was a hard life at the show but we endured it for the sake of the club. Sunday found us checking out of the hotel where Ms. Roach was hit with an extra surcharge at the hotel for her rowdy, noisy and at times rude behavior at the hotel. Needless to say I don't think we will ever be able to go there again. If interested, you will have to ask her for more details. Sunday's show was low key but had just as great weather as the last several days. Because Dr. McClure decided that he didn't want to get home at 1 am again since he had to work Monday morning, he and Terry set out for home at 1 pm. They left Deb in-charge of awards collection. Wow, several members got awards and Terry even got a first place in unrestored for her 88 convertible GT. Nice work Terry. On the way home the temperature changes was very apparent getting colder the further north you went. Getting home at 10:30 Sunday night was the low point of the trip but plans are already in the works for the next nationals in Ohio in mid June. So if you are looking for adventure, fun or just to get away from it all make plans to travel with the three musketeers in June to Ohio. Start saving your allowance, sell your children or take a second on your house for gas money and make plans to go. See you there.

Knoxville Roush Run

Thursday March 13th Phil Utley and I met up at the Cracker Barrel Restaurant in Lebanon for a run to Knoxville to meet Jack Roush. We headed out at 9:00AM with a quick stop in Cookeville to pick up Bob and his buddy. Once we were all together it was put the pedal down and GO. We arrived at Lance Cunningham Ford a bit early...so we headed over to the pre-arranged lunch rendezvous Puleo's Grill. There we met up with the Knoxville crew of local Roush enthusiasts, had lunch a caravanned back to the Ford dealership.

Everyone got their cars cleaned up and pretty much the fun started. Mr. Roush signed posters and just about anything you handed him.

There were about 40 cars there and he went around to each one individually and signed it where ever you wanted. The fun lasted well into the evening...we all left individually, I stayed around cause I heard that some guy had purchased a new Roush and Jack was going to do a burnout in the car for the guy.

We had a blast there...met some nice folks, and some awesome cars.
